TWENTY-FIRST SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

AUGUST 23, 2015

“Seeing is believing” is a popular phrase in the scientific age. While it is true, there are many areas of life where “believing is seeing.” For example, we have to believe in someone in order to find them trustworthy. We have to believe in ourselves if we are to accomplish certain goals. Just so, we must believe in God in order to see the providential unfolding of the divine will.

First reading – Joshua 24:1-2a, 15-17, 18b

Daily life confronts us all with fundamental choices. Will we live for the things we can see, touch, and possess, or will we live for the One who is beyond all things that comprise this world? Among the many ways and values that compete for our loyalty, will we anchor our lives in the visible or the invisible?

Second reading – Ephesians 5:21-32 or 5:2a, 25-32

Faith is the basis of all our significant relationships, whether to other people or to God. Some relationships call for more significant acts of faith than others. The self-giving love between husbands and wives that Paul describes in this passage is only possible if both persons are committed to a life of love and trust.

Gospel – John 6:60-69

In life, confirmation often comes only after a commitment. In matters of faith, this is always true. Our assurance that God loves and cares for us grows out of one’s leap of faith rather than prompting one’s leap of faith. We must come to believe before we can begin to be convinced and assured.

People often see faith as a synonym for optimism or hope. Biblically, however, it is something entirely different. Optimism and hope may be nothing more than wishful thinking. Faith is not wishful thinking, but a chosen willingness to trust in some claim that has been presented to us. Marriage is a relevant analogy. Two people at the altar do not pledge their troth on the basis of feeling and optimism alone, but on their conscious and willing commitment to be faithful for life to one another, for better for worse. Faith isn’t easy.

A common experience for all of us is having some new wrinkle suddenly appear in the midst of our otherwise simple lives. It can be not only a major disruption in our thinking and our schedules, but can be of such magnitude as to trouble us and send us reeling. This is what happened to Jesus’ disciples. Many people had followed him enthusiastically, but suddenly he was talking about things they did not understand. Jesus referred to himself as the bread of life, the true bread from heaven, which they were to eat. He also spoke of his blood as something they should drink. He insisted that eating his body and drinking his blood was the only way of having eternal life. This was not only foolish and scandalous talk to the Jews, but was significantly troublesome to his disciples. How were they to understand this strange language? They still had much to learn. A part of what Jesus was saying was that they must take seriously his presence in their lives and his will for them. Otherwise they would not experience the abundant life he came to give them. At this point many of Jesus’ followers forsook him and would not remain in his company any longer.

Christ may have failed to fulfill some of their expectations, but how did things go when they turned away from him? Avoiding his physical presence was one thing, but escaping his spiritual presence was another. Jesus was not just a physical companion, he was a continual source of meaning, of insight into truth, and of guidance for living. He taught them memorable lessons that must have been unforgettable. He said, “Whoever would be the greatest among you must become the servant of the least.” Such standards of true greatest must have haunted them for the rest of their lives.

Have a Blessed Week! Fr. Festus

THE PARISH LIBRARY NEWS—EVANGELIZATION BOOK LIST FOR AUGUST AND SEPTEMBER

The St. Gerald Parish Browsing and Borrowing Library has been kept up-to-date with current authors and historical books, videos and DVD's about the Catholic Faith. Some authors are Matthew Kelly, Scott Hahn, Mother Teresa and Henri Nouwen. We even have books for teens and children. It is just like a municipal library with a real librarian who keeps the books in order and prepares new books to put in circulation. Thank you to Geri Adams and Claudette Calka for all your work during the past few years in keeping the library inventory fresh and in order. Hello to Agnes Bongero who is the new librarian. She will continue to be assisted by Claudette Calka. Agnes periodically places books on a display cabinet as suggestions to read. There is a wooden book cart with DVD's and videos.

Mary Yageman, of the Evangelization Committee, has taken on a project of reading as many books as she can in order to recommend them to you to read. This month's recommendations are:

- Amazing Grace for the Catholic Heart by Cavins, Pinto and Armstrong
- The Joy of the Gospel by Pope Francis (a recommended read from our current Pope)
- Any Friend of God's Is a Friend of Mine by Patrick Madrid
- Praying with Therese of Lisieux
- Pope John XXIII by Thomas Cahill (a local author)
- The Best Catholic Writing (2004) by Brian Doyle
- The Mystery of the Transfiguration by Raniero Cantalamersa
- Jesus and You (Discovering the Real Christ) by James Finley and Michael Pennock
- The Case for Faith by Lee Strobel
- The Mother of God by Slaves of the Immaculate Herat of Mary

I am adding books about theology (knowledge of God):

- The Compendium of the Catechism of the Catholic Church by United States Conference of Catholic Bishops. A short summary in Q and A form about the Catechism of the Catholic Church. In the same style as the old Baltimore Catechism
- The Catholic Source Book – Everything little detail about the Catholic Faith and Culture. If ever ask yourself or others: "Why do Catholics genuflect?", "What's a holy day of obligation?", "Why is there a purple altar cloth on the altar today?", then this book will make you an expert in these things. Enjoy our library!!! Peggy

Have you considered putting St. Gerald Church in your Will? Please call Fr. Festus at 248-477-7470. He would be happy to discuss this with you.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS NEWS

Knights Host Donuts and Family Communion Mass Next Sunday While Seeking New Members

The Council will close out the month with a busy day next Sunday, August 30. After the 8:30 and 10:15 masses we will provide donuts and coffee for mass-goers as part of a recruiting effort. Since it is a fifth Sunday of the month, the 10:15 mass will be a family communion mass for us. Please be a few minutes early and sit with your fellow knights and their families in the right side of center section in front of the lectern. A Fourth Degree Color Guard is expected at the mass.

Led by Membership Director Shatomi Kerbawy, Council leaders also will be making a major effort to acquaint parish men and their wives of the advantages of being a Knight. You can help by chatting up men and wives you know about the charitable work done each year by our Council.

Following the mass and donuts, come back to church for the reception after the Noon mass for long-time staff member Peggy Backus, a supporter of the Council since our founding 10 years ago. Peggy and her husband Chuck were the Council's family of the month in March.

On Thursday, Larry Swanson and a squad of Knights and their spouses will be cooking dinner for the homeless people involved in the South Oakland Shelter at North Congregational Church in Farmington Hills. Larry reports he has enough help, but workers are needed for other help. See the big bulletin board in the Gathering Space for a task you can do.

Congratulations to Deacon Mark Springer and Tom and Barbara Seabolt. Deacon Mark who joined our Council early this year was recognized as Knight of the Month for August. The Seabolts were cited as August's Family of the Month.

If you are looking for a way to keep the late summer sun out your eyes, get one of the new Council caps from PGK Bruce Roberts next Sunday. The caps are made in the USA and are in the Council red and with our logo. A great buy at $20. Bruce also has the Council shirts available at $25 each. He is asking if there is any interest in a light jacket in Council colors suitable for spring and fall.

Looking ahead: Officers meet Sept. 1; members meet Sept. 15 and we cook pancakes for the parish on Sept, 27.

A FAMILY PERSPECTIVE

BY BUD OZAR

We are familiar with being "narrow minded" but are you aware of being "narrow hearted?" This serious ailment is the inability to accept another person who doesn't measure up to our criteria. This ailment is fatal in a family because it prevents individual identity.

PERMANENT DIACONATE

Those discerning a call to the diaconate ministry are invited to attend an information night — with their wives, if they are married — at Livonia's St. Genevieve-St. Maurice Parish on Thursday, August 27. The evening will begin at 6:30 PM and will provide information on the application process and requirements for entering formation for the permanent diaconate.

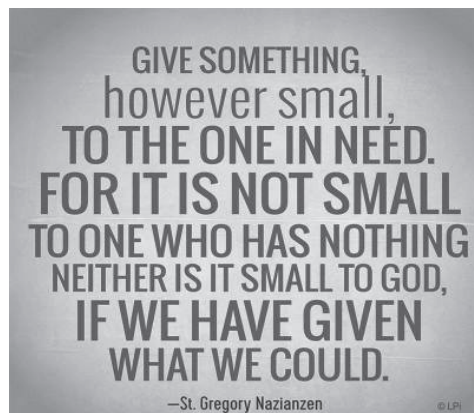

Gifts to the Catholic Services Appeal fund the work of the archdiocesan Office for Clergy and Consecrated Life and the Permanent Deacon Formation Team, which coordinate diaconal ministry and formation. In addition, the CSA supports men studying for the permanent diaconate at Sacred Heart Major Seminary.
