

The VOICE

OCTOBER 23, 2016

The readings for the Thirtieth Sunday in Ordinary Time teach about the proper disposition for prayer. God listens not only to the content of our prayers but also to the sincerity with which we pray.

Ben Sira, often abbreviated as “Sirach.” This Jewish wisdom book was compiled around 175 BC. Most of the text deals with moral instruction for daily living. Not surprisingly, there is a strong emphasis on prudence, honesty, humility, moderation, trust, and temperance. Larger themes such as proper disposition toward wealth and the cautious use of speech are also embedded within this wisdom text. In today’s reading, we hear about how best to offer worship and prayer to God. The reading begins with a prominent theme in Jewish wisdom material, “The LORD is a God of justice.” According to Sirach, although God is impartial, God is especially attentive to the “cry of the oppressed.” Special attention is given by God to the most vulnerable in the ancient world: the widow and the orphan, those in society who were left on the margins due to no fault of their own. But Sirach also teaches that God is partial as well to “the one who serves God willingly.” Those fortunate enough not to be socially marginalized by life’s circumstances also have God’s ear in prayer so long as they seek to know and serve the Lord. The Jewish sage Sirach assures his audience of God’s fidelity to the faithful: their “petition reaches the heavens... it does not rest till it reaches its goal, nor will it withdraw till the Most High responds.”

We hear a parable for the Gospel reading today, the parable of the Pharisee and the tax collector. This is another parable on prayer (recall last Sunday the parable of the persistent widow) that is found only in the Gospel of Luke, reinforcing Luke’s interest in the topic of prayer. Whereas last Sunday the emphasis was on persistence in prayer, this Sunday the stress is on humility in prayer. Jesus directs this parable to his opponents (some Pharisees) who he encountered on his journey to Jerusalem. He juxtaposes two men (a Pharisee and a tax collector) who represented the extremes in Jewish society—the clean and respected Pharisee with the unclean and despised tax collector. In addition to Jesus’ obvious point that God shows no partiality in prayer based on human standards, two other subtle points emerge in the parable. First, the caution against the human inclination to judge others and vindicate oneself. And second, the reminder that our practice of religion can too easily become just a routine exercise in following the rules. Constant examination of conscience is what God requires of us when we come to him in prayer.

The second reading from Second Timothy is taken from the concluding remarks in this letter. In today’s reading, it is clear that the author is presenting this letter as Paul’s last will and testament. In fact, the somber tone and sense of finality of Second Timothy has led some scholars to conclude that this letter was the last of the Pastoral Letters to be written. In today’s reading, Paul is presented as reflecting upon his ministry at the end of his life. In many ways, it reads as a prayer and meditation in which Paul assesses his work as the Apostle to the Gentiles. Paul looks back on his life in the framework of forgiveness and humility. He sees in retrospect how God was with him throughout his journeys: “the Lord stood by me and gave me strength, so that through me the proclamation might be completed.”

HALLOWEEN

At Sacred Heart Major Seminary

It's that time of the year again! Halloween is just around the corner and Sacred Heart Major Seminary needs your help. Each year the seminary community opens their doors and hearts to over 2000 children from the surrounding Detroit neighborhood so that the kids can have a fun and safe place to play games and trick-or-treat. But they need your help to make this year a success! They are asking for donations of Halloween candy that will then be passed out to the many kids who visit the seminary. If you are willing to participate in this important ministry by donating bags of candy, please bring them to the boxes located in the vestibule of the church or the religious formation office. Thank you for your continued generosity in placing a smile on God's children.

METROPOLITAN TRIBUNAL

Each year, millions of Catholics suffer the pain and hurt of divorce. Many end up feeling separated and alienated from both the Church and their parish community. The annulment process brings these Catholics back into the sacramental life of the Church.

The Metropolitan Tribunal of the Archdiocese of Detroit receives more than a thousand formal annulment requests a year. While processing these requests accounts for a major part of its duties, the Tribunal also reaches out to those in need through presentations by its judges at parishes throughout the year.

Gifts to the Catholic Services Appeal help the staff of the Metropolitan Tribunal offer guidance, hope, and spiritual healing to divorced Catholics.

KNIGHTS CORNER

Join your Fellow Knights Next Sunday at the 10:15 Family Communion Mass

Next Sunday, October 30, is another fifth Sunday and time for Council members and their families to pray together at the 10:15 AM Mass. Back in the day, only the Knights would participate – a hundred or so men, all dressed in suit and tie, processing down the center aisle of St. Rita Church, their voices filling the sanctuary with the entrance hymn.

A much smaller Council, such as ours, can not duplicate that spectacle but we should be able to fill six or seven pews, especially accompanied by our spouses and families. Make a note now to attend the 10:15 AM Mass next Sunday with your fellow Knights. Show our fellow parishioners the spiritual side of our Council.

A few more pots of chili would be welcomed at next Saturday’s Trunk ‘n’ Treat event when the Knights will be doing a cook-out. If a Knight (or his spouse) can provide a crock pot full of chili, it would be greatly appreciated. Give Program Director Tom McPhail a call at 248-875-1185 for more details.

The Knights of Columbus organization is growing, establishing Councils in Ukraine and France last year. Earlier this summer it celebrated 10 years in Poland as well as reaching 1,918,122 members world wide, a record. Besides the U.S, the Order is well established in Canada, Mexico and the Philippines.

The K of C also set a record in 2015 for charitable giving – more than $175 million – and for volunteer service hours – more than 73.5 million. Michigan Councils ranked seventh among all Councils world wide charitable giving and volunteer time. Our Council provided the parish and the community with an estimated 2,518 hours of service in 2015.

Congratulations to brothers Mike O’Day, Armin Russenberger and Rick Stone. They recently qualified for their K of C aprons. O’Day became eligible with his service at our Sept. 25 pancake breakfast; Russenberger and Stone upon attaining their second and third degrees earlier this month.
